National and International NonProfit Organization - Application Instructions

We are a non-profit computer recycling and training organization dedicated to bridging the digital divide by providing technical training and refurbished computer equipment to schools, non-profit organizations, and economically and/or physically disadvantaged individuals. By donating refurbished computers, we serve the community and the environment by reusing donated computers and responsibly recycling discarded electronic equipment.

We provide computers to the public by refurbishing used computer equipment for which businesses, corporations, and individual donors no longer have a use. Although our computers may not run the newest software, they are perfectly adequate for many home, school, and office applications. Guidelines set by our Board of Directors are used to determine the priority status of each request according to availability of equipment, qualification of applicant and greatest public benefit.

Once your application has been approved and based on the information you provide in your application, your request will be assigned a priority status and will be ranked accordingly. When your request reaches the top of the list, we will call you and tell you what equipment we have available at the time and, together we will determine if it is suitable for your use. If the computer equipment that is ready for placement doesn't fill your requirements, we will go on to the next applicant on the list. You will not lose your place on the waiting list. Wait time for approved applicants may be as long as six months. Desired quantity and available equipment is a factor.

In order to keep our expenses at a minimum, any equipment we donate to you or your organization can be picked up by appointment only at our Novato facility. In some cases, arrangements can be made to pick up placements at our Berkeley facility. Also, although we can ship your computer to you at your expense, please note that the waiting time is significantly longer.
